Seeking GOD

Through Spiritual Practices

In our popular culture there is a lot of talk about folks who consider themselves, "spiritual but not religious." However, in the church we don't always have the important conversation about our own spiritual journeys. This year, the theme for the winter retreat is "Seeking God Through Spiritual Practices."

We will begin our retreat on Friday evening, February 21, as we gather at Kirkmont Center in Zanesfield, Ohio. After we get settled in Croft House, we will begin our time together with worship and an exploration of what it might mean to be spiritual as we discover our own unique spiritual types. We will end our evening on Friday with a time of fellowship.

Saturday will be devoted to sampling a variety of spiritual practices. Of course we will include worship and prayer but also some things you may not think of as a spiritual practice. If you engage in any activity that you consider spiritual, consider sharing that with the group. To close our time together, we will share dinner together before leaving Kirkmont Center.

The cost for the retreat is $75. This includes Friday night lodging at Croft House, breakfast, lunch with a salad bar, and dinner with a salad bar. You will need to bring a sleeping bag or bed linens, a pillow, and snacks to share. If you are interested in hiking during our free time on Saturday afternoon, bring outdoor clothing and shoes. Who knows, there may be snow. Most of all, bring the gift of yourself!

There will be a signup sheet in the office. Participation is limited to 24. Please be in touch with Reverend Charlotte if you have questions.

Come and join us as we renew relationships and make new friends. Come and discover how God might be calling you to a deeper relationship.

MESSAGE FROM INTERIM SENIOR PASTOR
Dr. Mack Sigmon

*Yet, whatever gains I had, these I have come to regard as loss because of the surpassing value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and I regard them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ...
Philippians 3: 7-8*

I imagine that right now many businesses have either started or already completed their post-Christmas inventories, and it will be interesting to see if the results reflect the possible turnaround in our national economy. Businesses measure success based upon the unbiased calculations of profit and loss, a determination from the past that has immediate effects upon the present and shapes the future for any particular business.

Imagine what your average American business owner would say to the idea of setting one's goals for loss rather than for gain? The Apostle Paul seems to be saying as much in his letter to the church at Philippi. Paul begins a segment of this letter by adding all of the things that weigh to his advantage in his life, and they are considerable for his time and for his culture: he is a circumcised Jew of the house of Benjamin – a "Hebrew born of Hebrews" – and he is a Pharisee in his knowledge of religious law. Paul is also a citizen of Rome, which grants him remarkable privileges in his world.

After taking a personal inventory of his advantages, he turns all of these gains upside down by writing what we read in Philippians 3: 7-8. To the world, even 2000 years later, this sounds like a ridiculous statement, but Paul is simply stating the natural outcome of his deep faith in Christ. Everything in his life that he has gained, whether by birth, intelligence, or work, is nothing compared to being a disciple of Jesus Christ, which has given to Paul that which no other worldly possession, identity, or title can provide.

What does it mean for us to experience "loss" for the sake of our faith in the Son of God? Does it mean that we lose time? Time is perhaps our most valuable commodity today, in a culture which uses metrics to determine one's value. Is it possible for us to surrender some of our time for the sake of Christ? Worship and mission take time - time that we could be using for our own advantage, yet Paul found that it was much more advantageous to use his time for the sake of others in the name of Christ.

What of our material blessings? Paul experienced the emotional and spiritual profit in the sharing of his material blessings with the people of God. As a tentmaker, Paul also used his talents, for his craft gave him the opportunity to travel to different cities and engage with countless others as he labored. How can we make our labor or our gifts work not only for our benefit, but for the benefit of God's mission for us?

Perhaps the greatest loss that Paul joyfully experienced was the loss of self, which is the essence of humble commitment and service to Christ. How much pride, how much stubbornness, and how much vanity can we surrender to the Lord? According to psychiatry, the number one characteristic for a healthy emotional life is our ability to admit that we are wrong. Statistically, people who can show this ability are much happier and much more at peace with themselves than their peers. The essence of Christianity is the ability to surrender self-satisfaction in exchange for grace; to do so is loss with tremendous gain.

So how will our spiritual inventory look at the end of 2014? A philosopher once wrote: "I expect to pass through this world but once; any good therefore I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again." We will not pass through 2014 again, so shall we pass through for our personal gain, or for the gain of the one whom we love and serve? In which is the profit that remains from now until eternity?

May you have a wonderful 2014, filled with love, grace, and blessing of our Lord Jesus Christ.

THANK YOU TO THE CONGREGATION

The staff of Worthington Presbyterian Church THANKS the congregation for your support of the staff by donating to the Staff Appreciation Christmas gift. Your generosity and thoughtfulness made the Christmas season very special, and reminded us of how thankful we are to work in such a wonderful church. May God bless and keep you in the New Year as we continue to serve you with all of our energy and commitment.

Reception follows in the Fellowship Hall

NEW CANDLES

In Dr. Mack's Sunday message, he spoke of the importance of Christmas light. God cloaks the earth with his light that we never forget the love he has for his people. Our church spreads light in our community representing our love that we as Christians pass to others.

This year, our church windows glowed with new electric candles lighting not only the inside of our church but shining for others within our community. The candles are used at Christmas time in the Sanctuary and on other occasions in the Fellowship Hall. We gratefully acknowledge these candles that were recently purchased with funds given by two long time members. The lights of these two women we remember fondly, Jean Madden and Claudia Wilkinson.

BRIDGE CLUB

The Bridge Club will meet Friday, January 17 at the home of Howard and Doris Moyer. Call 889-2385 to reserve a seat.

PURCHASE A BLUE HYMNAL

If you would like to purchase a blue hymnal (the ones we just replaced), stop in the church office. The cost is $5.00 each. If you purchase 10 or more, the cost is only $3.00 each.

HOSPITALITY IS A FOCUS FOR 2014

The Membership and Fellowship Ministry is inviting you to volunteer and be actively engaged in hospitality in 2014. It's simple; just be friendly and demonstrate a genuine spirit of warmth and interest. In this way we build relationships that encourage membership and a community of love, support and involvement. Please consider the following opportunities to demonstrate hospitality.

- 😊 Greet and welcome visitors particularly at our parking lot entrances on a Sunday morning. This is to complement the service of our ushers who focus on the sanctuary.
- 😊 Call a visitor following their attendance at church to say "Welcome and look forward to seeing you again" or "May I answer any questions?" Names and phone numbers are obtained from the pew pads and emailed to you.
- 😊 Help with new fellowship activities such as being a "coffee hour observer". During the coffee hour, observe folks standing alone or seemingly not knowing anyone and greet them and engage in conversation. Or, help with functions related to fellowship such as the McCormick Dinners.
- 😊 Assist new members to become actively engaged based on their interests and contact them three or four times during the year. New members are asked at the new member class if they would like to have a "mentor" and then we connect them with you.

Please call the church office at 885-5355 and share your willingness to be involved. We need all ages to accomplish hospitality! Thank you

UPDATE MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

Does our Church have YOUR family membership record correct? It is time for us to update our database with any changes, additions or deletions that may have occurred in your family over the past year. Have you changed your phone number? Are all of your children still at home and are they all included in your membership record? If you have not already informed the Church Office about changes to your record, please call the church office at 885-5355.

THANK YOU

Once again, we thank all the generous “sack lunch” makers. We had even more than the requested 150 lunches. Harry from the Open Shelter was so thankful because they were closed over Thanksgiving so the extra lunches were especially needed. Kudos to:

Y FAMILY CENTER: ONE BIG DINNER

WPC volunteers provided over 240 dinners (a new all-time high) at our December 17, Y Family Center dinner hosting. In spite of a kitchen disaster involving a spilled pan of hot ravioli, a very busy evening was made easier by a great volunteer turnout and plenty of Christmas cookies for the families (and one cookie tray made especially for volunteers!).

Thanks to all who support this vital community service throughout the year. Please see the Mission pages of the WPC website for our 2014 dinner schedule.
